websites made smart

Software for the smart, the informed, the powerful.

An IdeaStarter Advanced lets you convert visitors into sales with secure shopping tools and functional e-commerce. Whether you're getting online for the first time or upgrading to receive orders online, you won't find an easier, faster way to make your products available for purchase on the web.

Why pay an over-priced web design agency when you know exactly what you want? You don't need a work of art, just a website that's functional, professional and drives customers to the sale. For an ecommerce enabled website with text, images, full products database, shopping cart, quote request, downloadable documents and search engine optimization you could easily pay $5,000 or more plus additional costs for changes to your site afterwards.

But you're smarter than that. You can get the same website for $269.95 to start and only $64.95 per YEAR after that with the IdeaStarter Advanced. Put your full product catalog online where customers can order products and submit payment with credit card via PayPal.

The best part is that you stay in control. Change your site as often as you like with the IdeaStarter Builder Tool. The user-friendly menu makes changing any part of your site fast and easy. Update your product catalog, edit text, images, downloadable documents, email links, colors, you name it. It's all a snap. And the IdeaStarter Builder Tool is online, so there's no software to install and it's available 24 hours a day.

Flashy animations on your site can be fun to look at (the first time), but your site needs to convert visitors into customers to help your bottom line. The difference between just having a website and truly doing business online is sales tools. Sales tools like a full online product catalog, the ability to receive credit card payments online via PayPal, downloadable product specs and page-specific keywords. These are the features that make the difference, and with IdeaStarter Advanced, you get them all.

If your business needs to start selling online ASAP, IdeaStarter Advanced is the answer.
